

ATTORNEY GENERAL.

William F. Browder, of Logan Co. is a candidate for Attorney General, subject to the action of the Democratic State Convention. Election on August, 1893.

We are authorized to announce Prof. H. K. Wayland, of Cadiz, as a candidate for County Judge of Trigg county. Election August 1893.

Capt. Sheldon's Shortage.

The Louisville Post of a recent date published a sensational article to the effect that Capt. Ralph Sheldon, Register of the Land Office, was short in his accounts with the State to the amount of $4,000. The matter was made public by a correspondent at Frankfort, during the absence of Capt. Sheldon and was done so doubt to injure Capt. Sheldon, who is a candidate for re-election. The facts are that the Register has not made his annual report this year, but as his predecessors have frequently been equally as negligent, there is nothing in that fact to raise a disturbance about. Capt. Sheldon's bond is entirely safe and he has money enough, it is said, to bank to square his accounts with the State. When the law does not require the report to be made at a certain time, it is not surprising that Capt. Sheldon, like other men with an eye to business, should keep the money and use it until it was called for.

The matter was no doubt called up by some enemy of Capt. Sheldon and amounts to nothing as an impeachment of his integrity as an official. The Post's article gives an interview with Mr. Lynn Boyd as authority for the statement and when it is remembered that Mr. Boyd is himself a candidate for the office the matter is explained. Capt. Sheldon has made a good officer, and this attempt to stab him while he was absent, was ungenerous and dishonorable.

Hon. Jno. T. Morgan has been re-elected to the Senate from Alabama.

Gov. Underwood's new paper, the Cincinnati News, made its first appearance last Saturday.

The transit of Venus over the disc of the sun to-morrow will begin at 9:20 a. m., and end at 2:50 p. m. It will not occur again until the year 2004.

Mr. J. M. Huff, editor of the Ashland Republican, has written a history of the "Ashland Tragedy" which he has published in book form and is selling at 35 cents per copy.

Col. E. Fulk Johnson is now conducting the correspondence and commonwealth columns of the Courier-Journal and is doing it like he does every thing he undertakes, in the very best style. By the way the man who beats Fulk in this county for Lieutenant Governor will have to get up before the comet rises.

The "Pastor Play" which represents the suffering and crucifixion of Christ is to be put upon the stage in New York. Wm. M. Warramacher, a young Philadelphia preacher and temperance lecturer, is to personate Jesus. The authorities have heretofore interfered and prevented the presentation of the sacrilegious drama.

The election of Culbertson in the Ninth was owing to the epiphany of Democrats and not to Republican gains. The vote of the district in 1890 was, for Hancock 14,126, for Garfield, 11,703, Hancock's majority 2,423. The vote in the late election was Culbertson, 11,217, Hunt, Dem., 9,948, Culbertson's majority, 1,269 although he received only 214 votes more than his party vote.

The transit of Venus next Wednesday will offer an opportunity for the solution of the sublimest problem known to science, and it will not occur again for 125 years. Millions of dollars and months of valuable time have been expended in preparation for the event and Prof. Brooks of the Red House Observatory, Phelps, N. Y., asks the prayers of all Christians for clear weather on that day.

The closing session of the 47th Congress met yesterday and will close by limitation March 3. It is probable that the President will convene the 48th Congress in extra session. The term of Senator Davis, the Vice-President pro tem, expires March 3 and Mr. Kiefer's term as Speaker of the House will end at the same time, so such a state of affairs there would be no one to become President in the regular succession in the event of President Arthur's death. An extra session should end doubtless be held.

The performance of "Si Slocum" by the Frank Frayne Company at the bank-building matinee, in Cincinnati, Thursday afternoon was brought to a magical end in the fourth act by an accident which resulted in the killing of the leading lady, Miss Annie Von Schren, by Frayne. In the act Miss Von Schren, who personates Si Slocum's wife, agrees to the ordeal of giving an apple shot from her head, but she was always been successful, and in this instance the spring loaded barrel of the breech-loading sporting rifle used broke just as Frayne pulled the trigger and the bullet went through the apple and entered the lady's forehead, killing her almost instantly.

STRICTLY CONFIDENTIAL.

A fashionable paper says the new wraps for ladies are padded on the shoulders. Any where else?

The President is preparing his annual message. Bring it on, we are young but tough and can stand most anything.

Mr. Arthur is going to take a fearful revenge upon the country for going Democratic. His message is said to be seven columns long.

"Wanted—10,000 names" is the heading of a paragraph in an exchange. We know some old men who would be satisfied with one new one.

It is rumored that Fahrenheit Young will shortly be married to Mrs. Lydia Pinkham the patent-medicine woman, though his friends have discredited the report.

The Interior Journal and Union Local have more articles about klaning than any papers in the State. It makes a beautiful young man like oneself blush to read them.

Mrs. Ella Sample, an 18-years-old wife, of Louisville, after five days of wedded life, eloped from her husband, an old man 60 years old. She didn't like the Sample.

Gilbert and Sullivan's latest opera, "Iolanthe," is said to be their best one. It is better than "Pinafore," and others in one respect at least, the name lullies punsters and rhymers.

John Clarke challenged Henry Coleman to fight a duel, at Lexington, Ky., because the latter stepped on his toes. He needed have raised a fuss about it. This is the time of the year for grinning corn.

Nearly all our great men commence life by teaching school.—Elizabethtown News.

Accept our thanks for your unexpected compliment, but how did you know we started that way?

General Hazen, of the Weather Bureau, says we are to have a mild winter.—Commonwealth.

Who cares what Hazen says, what does Fahrenheit Young say about it?

The comet is still visible and will be until January when it will rise about midnight. It will be fashionable for the boys who go to see their sweethearts to sit up "to watch for the comet" in a few weeks.

The Hartford Herald has found an older piece of calico than the one we mentioned last week. We know of a piece not so old but more valuable than either of those mentioned. It has a girl in it worth untold thousands.

Last week a little ten-year-old boy in Iowa hung himself on account of unrequited love for a neighbor's little girl. Poor little fool! If he had lived long enough he would have realized that there is such a thing as "the first mislaid impulse of an undisciplined heart."

An Indianapolis man has invented a process by which he can manufacture eggs by machinery. Only recently a patent was taken out for an incubator and now that artificial eggs are to be made it begins to look like the hens were to be driven out of business.

A man who promised not to use tobacco and a woman who put away a bottle of wine 26 years ago to await the election of a Democratic Governor of Pennsylvania, have been found. The man has resumed the use of the weed, and the wine was recently drunk with great merriment. Now let some of the talented liars of that State promise to tell the truth (the Democratic President is elected and the country will be grateful for two years).

A young man named G. Stone Phillips and Miss Moss, a fifteen-years-old girl, both of Henderson county, were the parties in a romantic elopement last week. The girl's guardian, to keep her from her lover, placed her in a convent school in Union county. The following day the young man drove up in a buggy and, with his pistol in one hand, went to the girl who was playing in the yard and taking her by the arm dragged her to the buggy and then disappeared before the alarm could be given. The girl's reluctance was caused by fear and not an unwillingness to go and she was soon all smiles and when they crossed over the river into Illinois and were married she was wearing Phillips' hat and doubtless knew the penalty. Stone is not one of the rolling kind, as he gathered Moss very successfully.

President Arthur came down on a number of office-holders last week like a thousand of brick and five heads were summarily decapitated. Those removed were C. E. Henry, U. S. Marshal for the District of Columbia; D. B. Ahlert, Postmaster at Washington and A. M. Parker his deputy; Geo. M. Spencer, Government Director of the Union Pacific Railroad and Helm, foreman of the Congressional Record publishing force. They were all removed for complicity in the star-route frauds and it is said that still other officials are to be bonused. The President evidently wants to strike the chord of popular approval just on the ore of the assembling of Congress.

The Federal Grand Jury of the North Alabama District has indicted Frank James for complicity in the Mussel Shoals robbery and he will be taken to Decatur for trial when the Missouri authorities get done with him.

The Chicago Inter-Ocean, a leading Republican organ, in an article in the Presidential outlook has this to say:

For the purposes of this inquiry it may be said that New York and Indiana will go Democratic, also New Jersey and Delaware. There are no other Northern States which the Democrats can reasonably hope to carry. It is true that Massachusetts and Connecticut, Wisconsin and Michigan made bad records this year, but they are not at all doubtful, at least none of them are except Connecticut. For the purpose of this discussion place Connecticut with her six electoral votes in the Democratic column, making 69 Democratic votes in the North, the very extreme maximum possible, provided of course, the Republicans make an aggregate of 180 votes. This is three less than the Democrats would have with all three of the doubtful States. Virginia has 12 votes, or the balance of power.

Virginia went anti-Donor by a large majority, and even if the States which held the balance of power under the last apportionment should all go Democratic, the Old Dominion may be relied upon to come to the rescue.

It is very easy to see the meaning of all this. The Republicans, as a dernier resort, will place Mahone upon their Presidential ticket as Vice-President. The Virginia Reader not only holds the Republican balance of power in the Senate and can dictate his terms, but it is very likely that he will strike even higher and demand a place on the Presidential ticket. The Stalwarts will be satisfied with nothing less than the head of the ticket and with this condition of affairs a blind man can see what the result will be. The Republican party is doomed to defeat and even Mahone cannot save it.

A Straw.

The Interior Journal went to press kept off the streets of Stanford.

The Louisville News has been clonbied in size and has a new head.

In one voting precinct in Todd county, 17 babies were born in three days.

Gov. Blackburn has represented a gold badge to Pat Murphy, the Louisville newsboy.

Geo. Ford and Christian Helm, both young men, suicided in Louisville, last week.

The capacity of the Norton Iron works, Ashland, Ky., is 112 tons of pig iron per day.

Deputy Marshal Wm. Jones killed Julia Hart, Col. at Campbellsville, for resisting arrest.

An Irishman named John Quinn suicided at Worthville, by cutting his throat with a razor.

The Princeton Banner had a mess of "p" last week, and the result was a hot chest 'red to be issued.

Owen Campbell, a mechanic, was shot and killed at Russellville, by policeman Leaviger and Vallentine.

Bad Gardner shot and killed Geo. Grayson, col., near Frankfort, in a dispute about 40 cents, which Grayson had loaned Gardner.

The people of Henderson are trying to solve the problem "Will Henderson be benefited or injured by the building of the bridge across the river?"

The Common School Commissioner of Franklin county, has published a pamphlet giving full information in regard to the schools of that county.

Prof. Shinnell, an itinerant piano tuner well known in this section, was found murdered in Bowling Green, last week. He was out in the back by some unknown party and robbed of some money of which he was known to be in possession.

Matthews, the man who murdered Andrew Duncan, of Mettury, was arrested in Columbia, Ky., last week, by the sheriff of Hickman county, who gets $500 reward, offered by the Governor.

Mrs. Hettie Reed, wife of Hon. P. Booker Reed, Chairman of the Democratic State Central Committee, Louisville, died Nov. 25th. She had been married only five weeks and four days and was only 22 years old.

Jno. J. Milliken, a Franklin lawyer, has been adjudged the father of Miss Laura Witt's illegitimate child and he will have to pay $70 a year for 20 years to him in support. Milliken is unmarried and is a cousin of one of the best families of Simpson county.

Henry Coleman stepped on John Clark's toe at Lexington, and Clark challenged him to fight a duel. They went to a field near the old fought with pistols, exchanging several shots. Both men were wounded and it is thought Coleman will not recover. Clark was shot in the leg was arrested.

Rev. J. G. Wharton, a preacher of the M. E. Church, North, at Elizabethtown, was arrested for running away with another man's wife, and for embezzlement.

One of the most horribly tragic suicides upon record was committed at Birmingham, Ala., on Saturday last, by W. H. Cunningham, a resident of Tennessee rolling works, this county. Mr. Cunningham, who was a heater by trade, had gone to Birmingham to seek work, which it seems he failed to get, or at least, such as was satisfactory to him; and in his disappointment, giving himself to drink, he was driven by the maddening cup to commit, perhaps, the most blood-curdling suicide ever committed in this or any other country. He mounted to the top of Albee furnace, and waiting until the draft was opened, waved his hat wildly about his head, threw it from him and leaped head foremost down this artificial crater into the seething abyss of molten, liquid fire—no minute lapse of time, scarcely less intense than the Hades pit of Scripture.

It was a fearful leap and a tragic ending to a life that might have been much better spent.

Mr. Cunningham was about forty-two years of age, and leaves a wife and four children.—Lyon County Democrat.
